Death of J. D. Holt, Sr. Occurs In Wailuku

John Dominis Holt, a lifelong resident of Oahu, died at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the Malulu hospital, Wailuku, following a stroke of paralysis. He had arrived on Maui but last Saturday, for a visit with his son, John D. Holt, Jr., of the Wailuku Sugar Company, and was stricken at the latter's home about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, never regaining consciousness. The body will be taken to Honolulu this afternoon, where the funeral services and interment will take place.

The deceased was a member of the well-known Holt family, his father having been Owen Holt, one of several brothers, all prominently identified with island affairs during the Monarchy. John Dominis Holt was a major on the staff of Kalakaua, during the Monarchy, and he had also held other places of prominence. At one time he was considered to be very wealthy, but is known to have suffered various financial reverses in the latter years of his life. He would have been 55 years of age had he lived until the 17th of next month.

The deceased is survived by five children, Judge Wm. Holt, of Wailuku; John D. Holt, Jr., of Wailuku; Harry E. Murray, of Wailuku; William, Owen, George, Chris, and Edward, all of Oahu. The sister is living in England.

Mrs. Harry E. Murray, his daughter, arrived from Honolulu on Tuesday morning, and will return with the remains today.

MAY NOT ACCEPT LAHAINA OFFICE.

It is possible that Arthur V. Lloyd, of Wailuku, who was last week appointed to the position of postmaster at Lahaina, will not accept the job. Mr. Lloyd is luna for the Wailuku Sugar Company, and he is not able to see that there would be much profit to him to make a change, especially since the tenure of the office is, to say the least, uncertain, while the outlay at the start is quite heavy.

Following the services in the church, the children will be given a treat with a Christmas tree in the Town Hall.

The Paris Liberte has discovered the most "nervy" of English tourists—always a self-confident race. This man entered a well-known restaurant, accompanied by two little girls, ordered a bottle of mineral water and three plates, and began to eat sandwiches, which he had brought with him in his pockets.

The manager, overcome by this outrage, approached him and said, "I should like to inform you that this is not a—"

"Who are you?" interrupted the Englishman.

"I am the manager," was the reply. "Oh, you are the manager, are you? That is good, I was just going to send for you. Why isn't the band playing?"—Youths Companion.

White Hoped—Bring me some apple pie.

Black Despair—Sorry, sah; it just run out.

W. H.—Follow it, then; follow it—Pinecone Tiger.

Norwegian Soprano Sings Next Week

Talented Musician Has Been Delighting Honolulu and Kauai Music Lovers—Has a Wonderful Voice.

Miss Inga Orner, the greatest Norwegian soprano of the present day, is surely coming to Maui. It was expected that she would be here this week, but her engagements in Honolulu and on Kauai necessitated the postponement. She will, however, arrive next Tuesday and will sing the same evening in the new Wailuku Orpheum, and on Thursday evening she will give a concert at the Kahului Lyceum.

Miss Inga Orner, a lyric Coloratura soprano of the highest rank, received her first musical training through the guidance of Wilhelm Klood at Christiania, studied further for Jean de Reszke at Paris, and completed her education with Cesare Rossi in Italy, where she made her debut as Gilda in Rigoletto under long and lavish applause. At a concert before their majesties, the King and Queen of Norway, Miss Orner was highly complimented on her beautiful voice, which has been compared with that of Jenny Lind by the greatest critics in the world. Miss Orner scored a decided success at Covent Garden at London, and has for several seasons delighted the audiences of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York. Miss Orner's voice is clear and even, with a range of three and one-half octaves. The Scandinavian folk-songs she renders with originality and rare interpretive ability, plus the charms and vivacity of youth.

Miss Orner's reception in Honolulu and on Kauai has been most enthusiastic, and music lovers of Maui cannot afford to miss the opportunity of hearing her.

Tickets are now on sale at the Wailuku Orpheum (Telephone No. 91) and at the Baldwin National Bank. Reserved seats are $1.00, with 50 cents as general admission.—Adv.
